Multimedia package test: can you hear this?

Since so far only Adobe has implemented embedded AV playback, you will need to use Acrobat as the viewer (haven't tested on Windows, but on OS X neither Preview nor Skim could play them).

Absolute positioning

Or you can use absolute positioning, via the `texpos` package

Using columns in a frame

This is content of the first column. You can use as many columns as you like, using the `columns` environment in `beamer`

In the second column you can do whatever you want, like adding an image for example.
